

Brown bag seminars

Tuesday 18 February 2025
12:00 – 14:00

Seminar room – 3rd floor, Via Verdi 26 Trento

H. Kowalewska

Introduces: Agnese Vitali

Discusses: Giovanni Minchio

Too Young to Retire, Too 'Old' to Hire? Women's Unemployment and Job-Seeking Challenges After 50

Dr Helen Kowalewska is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Social & Policy Sciences at the University of Bath, UK. Her research explores women's employment across high-income countries and how social policies can reduce or potentially worsen gender inequalities. Previously, she held postdoctoral positions at the University of Oxford and University of Southampton, where she also completed her PhD. Her research has been published in leading journals, including European Sociological Review, Work, Employment & Society, and Journal of European Social Policy, and contributes to policy debates on family, work, and gender equality.

Segreteria del Dipartimento di Sociologia e Ricerca Sociale, Via Verdi, 26 – 38122 Trento, Italy | segreteria.srs@unitn.it | csis@unitn.it