RELEASE FOR PUBLICATION OF ABSTRACTS

(Version 7 May 2024)

I undersigned, _____

born in _____

on _____,

resident in _____,

in connection with the publication of my abstract related to the 5th International Symposium on Fatigue Design and Material Defect to be held from the 14th to the 16th of May 2024 in Trento, Italy.

HEREBY AUTHORIZES AND EXPRESSLY TRANSFERS

to the University of Trento and its successors in title, a non-exclusive license to publish its abstract on digital devices and on the website of the 5th International Symposium on Fatigue Design and Material Defect named above, in accordance with the relevant laws in force and, in particular, in compliance with Law 633/1941 (Protection of copyright and other rights related to its exercise) and Regulation (EU) 2016/679 on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data.

This authorization is granted free of charge, without the University of Trento being required to pay any fees or charges, and also constitutes a waiver of any future claims. In this regard, the undersigned hereby waives as of now any right, action or claim in relation to the payment of fees for publication by any means or technology of dissemination and on any medium, as well as for use in productions of any kind edited by the University of Trento. The authorization refers to use both in Italy and abroad.

STATEMENT ON THE CONTENT OF MY ABSTRACT

Pursuant to Law 633/1941, I undersigned declare that my abstract is completely original, that I hold the exclusive and complete copyright and that it is free from third party rights who may oppose its dissemination or publication. I also declare that the content of my paper is not defamatory or insulting.

In accordance with the Regulation (EU) 2016/679, I undersigned also declare that the content of my intervention does not infringe the rights of third parties with regard to the protection of personal data.

It is understood, however, that the publication or other use of the documentation submitted shall not be construed as an obligation for the University of Trento.

In any case, I undersigned, as author of the abstract, retain the rights of economic exploitation of it, such as the right to transcribe, reproduce, distribute, process, publicly display the content by any means and to authorize others to use it.

I undersigned am aware that I may revoke this authorization in the future and, as a result, the abstract will not be included in subsequent productions.

I acknowledge, however, that it will not be possible to remove the abstract from the website related to the Conference, which will already have been produced by the University of Trento at the time of any revocation.

Trento,

Signature

INFORMATIVE REPORT ON THE PROCESSING OF PERSONAL DATA

The Regulation (EU) 2016/679 “General Regulation on Personal data Protection” (from now on “GDPR”) states the right of any person to the protection of personal data that concern that person. As an interested party, pursuant to Article 13 of GDPR, we provide you the following information.

1. Identity and contact details of the controller

The Controller is the University of Trento, via Calepina n. 14, 38122 Trento (TN); email: ateneo@pec.unitn.it; ateneo@unitn.it.

2. Contact details of the data protection officer

The data protection officer can be contacted at the following e-mail address: rpdp@unitn.it.

3. Purposes of the processing of the personal data and legal basis for the processing

The processing of personal data is undertaken by the Controller as part of its tasks carried out in the public interest (art. 6, comma 1, lett. e) GDPR), in particular, for the purposes specified in the consent form that precedes.

4. Nature of the conferral of personal data

The conferral of personal data above mentioned is optional but the lack of conferral means the inability to use the abstract for the purposes specified in the consent form that precedes.

5. Procedures for dealing

The processing of personal data shall be performed in computerised form only by the University of Trento staff authorized to carry out the processing of data in respect of the tasks and functions assigned and with due regard to the principles of lawfulness, of propriety, of transparency, of expediency, of proportionality, and in order to ensure appropriate confidentiality requirements (art. 5, par. 1 GDPR).

6. Categories of recipients

Your personal data shall be disclosed to the public and/or distributed as specified in the consent form that precedes. Personal data shall be disclosed to third parties solely in complying with a legal obligation and/or a measure taken by the judicial authority.

7. Period for which the personal data will be stored

The personal data will be stored for the time necessary to achieve the aim for which they were collected or for the time necessary to achieve the fulfilment of legal obligations. At any event the personal data will be stored for the time set out by the legislation in force and/or by the University's regulation in the field of administrative documentation storage in the performance of its institutional activities.

8. Rights of data subjects

The data subject is entitled to obtain from the Controller, at any moment, in the cases provided for, the exercise of the rights set out under articles 15 et seq. of GDPR, in particular the access to his/her personal data and any other information indicated in art. 15 of GDPR; the rectification of personal data when incorrect and/or the integration of personal data when incomplete; the restriction of processing of personal data, as well as the right to object to such processing and, in the cases provided for, the erasure.

For further information and the exercise of the rights involved a specific application can be sent to the controller or the data protection officer to their contact details abovementioned.

Lastly, the data subject has the right to lodge a complaint with the Personal Data Protection Authority (Garante per la protezione dei dati personali) pursuant to art. 77 of GDPR.
